REFLECTIONS

This issue of Le Tresor has been written to reflect the images and impressions of your high school experience and to make them more vivid in your memory. Our years at Danville Senior High School have been a time of growth and discovery. They have provided a broad base in education which will largely determine the heights we reach in later life. We sincerely hope that the 1966-67 yearbook will prompt many reflections on your part — reflections that are both happy and meaningful.

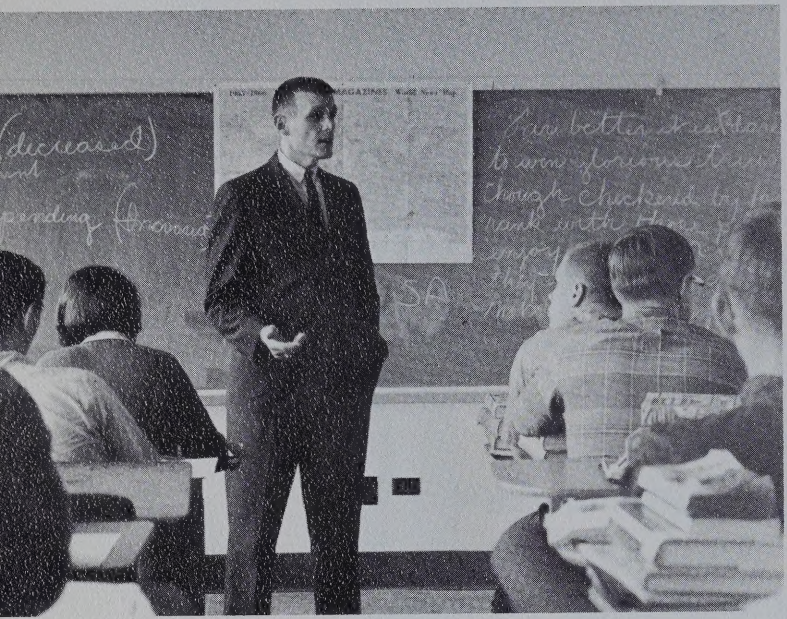
ALMA MATER

Hail, ye students, join the chorus
Of our joyous song of praise;
For the honor of our High School
Loud your youthful voices raise.
We will always stand together
And will always raise on high
The Orange and Purple banner;
May it never cease to fly.

APPREC



Mr. Richard Connolley, Teacher

This issue of Le Tresor is fondly dedicated to the faculty of the Danville Senior High School. We, as students, have all too often neglected or forgotten to express our appreciation of the teacher's continued efforts, and just as frequently, we have underestimated the value of what we have learned from them. The constant cry is that the quality of education should be ever improving. Is it doing so at Danville High? Despite the frequent grumbling, the yearbook is certain that our education is steadily getting better - - largely because our teachers are conceiving and practicing new and better ideas. As only two of many examples, we point to the new calculus and French IV classes this year. The members of each of these classes are very glad for the opportunity to further their knowledge. The going gets rough occasionally, but the rewards are well worth it. We have learned far more than the accumulation of facts from the faculty; we feel that we have learned resourcefulness,

The class of '67 owes a great many thanks to its advisor, Mr. Harold Kashner. During his three years of supervising class activities, he has cheerfully undergone some rather harrowing but rewarding experiences -- notably, class sales and prom decoration -- and has helped make our years at Danville High prosperous and happy.

Born in Bloomsburg, 29 years ago, Mr. Kashner received his B.S. from Bloomsburg State College, where he majored in accounting and minored in sales and social studies. After teaching at Susquehanna High School for a year, Mr. Kashner came to Danville where he has been teaching for four years. He now instructs Bookkeeping I and II classes, but is also qualified to teach social studies and several business subjects. Mr. Kashner and his wife, Anna Louise, have two children: Stewart, age 5 and Harold, age 3. In his free time, Mr. Kashner enjoys all sports, including hunting, fishing and boating.

Mr. Harold Kashner, Class Advisor

self-reliance, persistance, and curiosity -- traits that have already served us well and that will continue to do so in the future. After being schooled for twelve years, it is only now that we students can begin to see the enormity of the teacher's task. So, to each member of the faculty, the class of '67 offers its thanks for a priceless adventure in education.

This expansion and improvement of our education would be quite impossible without the effective and efficient organization of the administration. Thanks to the administration's efforts, school affairs can run smoothly and with a minimum of confusion. The Danville High Students seldom see, and can therefore seldom appreciate, the workings "behind the scenes," but we now take the opportunity to thank the members of the administration for their part in making Danville Senior High School a happy and memorable experience for us.

Mr. George Gehrig, Business Manager

Mr. Eugene Shipe, Yearbook Advisor

Mr. Eugene Shipe has helped the senior class not only as a Guidance Counselor, but also as the yearbook staff's very busy advisor. We thank Mr. Shipe for many things -- for his advice, for his patience, for his time, and for being a lot of fun to work with!

Mr. Shipe, who has been with Danville High's faculty for 15 years, was born and raised in Danville and received his B.S. in science and geography at Bloomsburg State College and his M.S. for Counseling at Bucknell University. He served in the Air Force during World War II and in the Army during the Korean War. Mr. Shipe and his wife, Doris, have four children: Joe (a member of the class of '67), Mark, Susan, and Matt. He says his hobbies include "hi-fi and chewing the fat with Charlie Berkey and Lewis Stauffer.

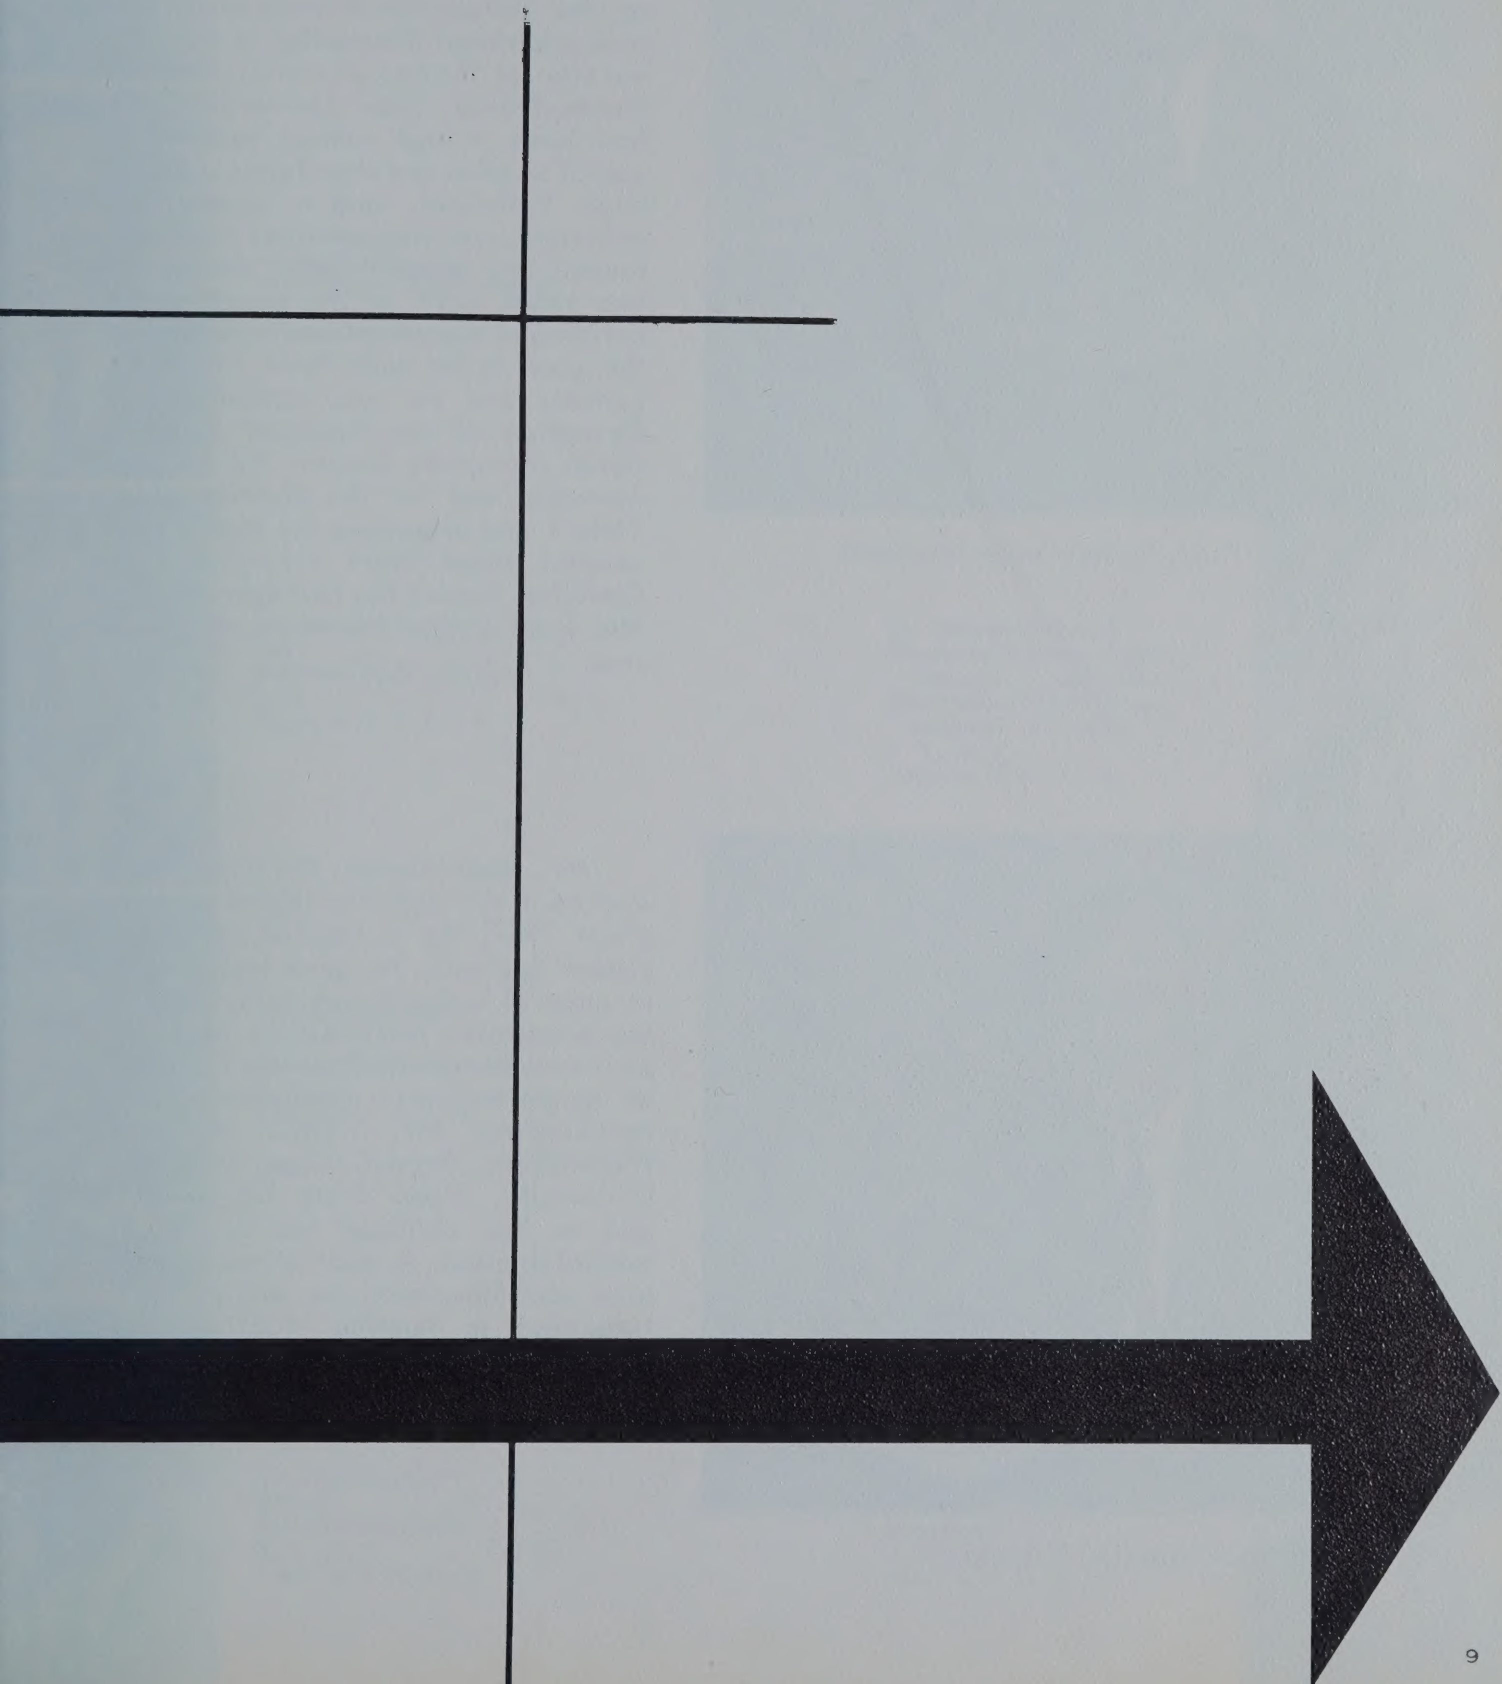
FACULTY



ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Harry S. Ruhl, County Superintendent

Mr. Harry S. Ruhl, County Superintendent, has served the public schools of Pennsylvania for forty years. After attending Bucknell University, he obtained his M.A. Degree at the University of Pittsburgh and took additional instruction at the University of Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania State University. He has been a high school teacher of social studies and chemistry, a Junior High Principal, and a supervising principal, yet his services have extended into several other areas. He has taken part in the planning and building of six completed schools and the soon to be built Area Technical School, and he was active in the formation of the Regional Instructional Materials Center. He secured remedial aid for the district under Title I and organized the highly successful Head Start Program in Danville. During his few spare hours, Mr. Ruhl enjoys traveling and reading.

Mr. Jack Wanich, Principal

Mr. Jack Wanich, Principal, has worked in the Danville School system since 1947. As a teacher in other school systems, he gave instruction in several business subjects, including economics and business law, and as a member of the Danville Faculty, he taught business mathematics and bookkeeping. Mr. Wanich attended Bloomsburg State College, Bucknell University, Penn State University, and he has obtained his degree in administration. A man of many hobbies and interests, he enjoys participating in hunting, boating, and fishing and is an enthusiastic spectator of High School and College wrestling.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Anne Marie Brag

Anne Marie Brag, better known to her friends in Danville as "Amie," is an exchange student from Karlstad, Sweden, who is spending a year in Danville through the Rotary Exchange program.

She came to our town after completing the equivalent of our high school education. She attended the Karlstad Girl's School for five years. In Karlstad, she studied seven years of English, five years of German and three of French, along with the customary maths and sciences.

While in Sweden, she enjoyed such sports as sculing, curling, skiing, tennis and swimming. She belonged to a film discussion group and participated actively in various youth clubs.

In Danville, she has been able to continue her skiing, tennis, and swimming. She belongs to the Art Club, Spanish Club and French Club and participated in the production of this year's Le Tresor. Art is her favorite subject at Danville High, but she does not intend to become an artist. Instead, upon her return to Sweden in mid-July, she will prepare to study at the School of Physical Therapy in Germany. Once graduated, she will practice in Sweden as a physical therapist.

Judy Killian

Judy Killian, Danville High School's other exchange student, has spent her senior year in Sweden. She left in August of 1966 and plans to return to Danville in June, 1967.

She is attending the gymnasium in Goteborg, Sweden, and is in the second of three grades. Her subjects are Swedish, French, English, Government and Religion. While in Sweden, Judy has had the privilege of living with three different families, and has, while on trips to Norway, learned to ski.

As a student in Danville High School, Judy was enrolled in the College Preparatory Course and was active in the Spanish Club, Bowling team, Prom Committee, and Class Play.

Judy will enter the Geisinger Hospital School of Nursing in the fall of 1967.

Nancy Williams

Last July, Nancy Williams, one of our senior class's two foreign exchange students, left the United States to study for a year in the Netherlands. She is staying with three families in the town of Wintersswiyk, only a few miles from the German border, and although she never studied Dutch, she now speaks the language fluently. Nancy attends the Wintersswiyk Lyceum and particularly enjoys her courses in social studies. She carries many more subjects and has far more homework than we do at Danville High, but her vacations are longer and more frequent than ours. During her vacations, Nancy enjoys wading, skiing, and traveling, and she has made several trips to near-by Germany. As a student at Danville High, Nancy was enrolled in the College Prep Course and was active in many extra-curricular activities: Cheerleading, Biology club, Class Play and Field Hockey. After graduation, she intends to enroll at Grove City College, Grove City, Pennsylvania.

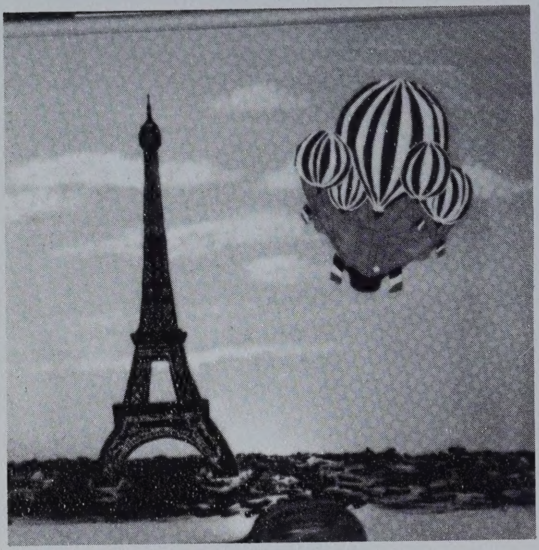
AROUND



The Junior Class of Danville High School requests the honour of your presence at the Junior-Senior Prom on Friday, the twentieth of May nineteen hundred sixty-six at nine o'clock in the evening High School Gymnasium.

From The Program.......

My companion was_____. He arrived at ______ to escort me on a wondrous, once-in-a-lifetime journey. We departed together and went Around The World In Eighty Days. We paused in Paris beneath the beauty of the Eiffel Tower and danced to _______, our favorite melody. Our journey carried us from ocean to ocean and continent to continent until ______, when we tiredly and bursting with fulfillment once again returned to our place of departure to reminisce where we had been.

We wandered all around the world through the palm trees of Hawaii swirled the Orient, Japan - for a cup of tea, whirling on to England by the sea. In France we glimpsed the Eiffel Tower, then flying home to our shady bower. Around The World In Eighty Days wonderful in many, many ways.

The Student Council, which is the student governing body of our school, is a most important organization in D.H.S. It's purposes are to assist in the management expression, to develop and to practice attitudes of good citizenship, to provide orderly direction of school activities, and to promote the general welfare of the school.

HONOR SOCIETY

The selection of members on the basis of academic and social leadership makes the Honor Society different from all other clubs. The emblem of the organization is the keystone and the flaming torch with the letters C.S.L.S. These symbolize the goals of its members--admirable character, service to the school and community, strong leadership, and scholarship.

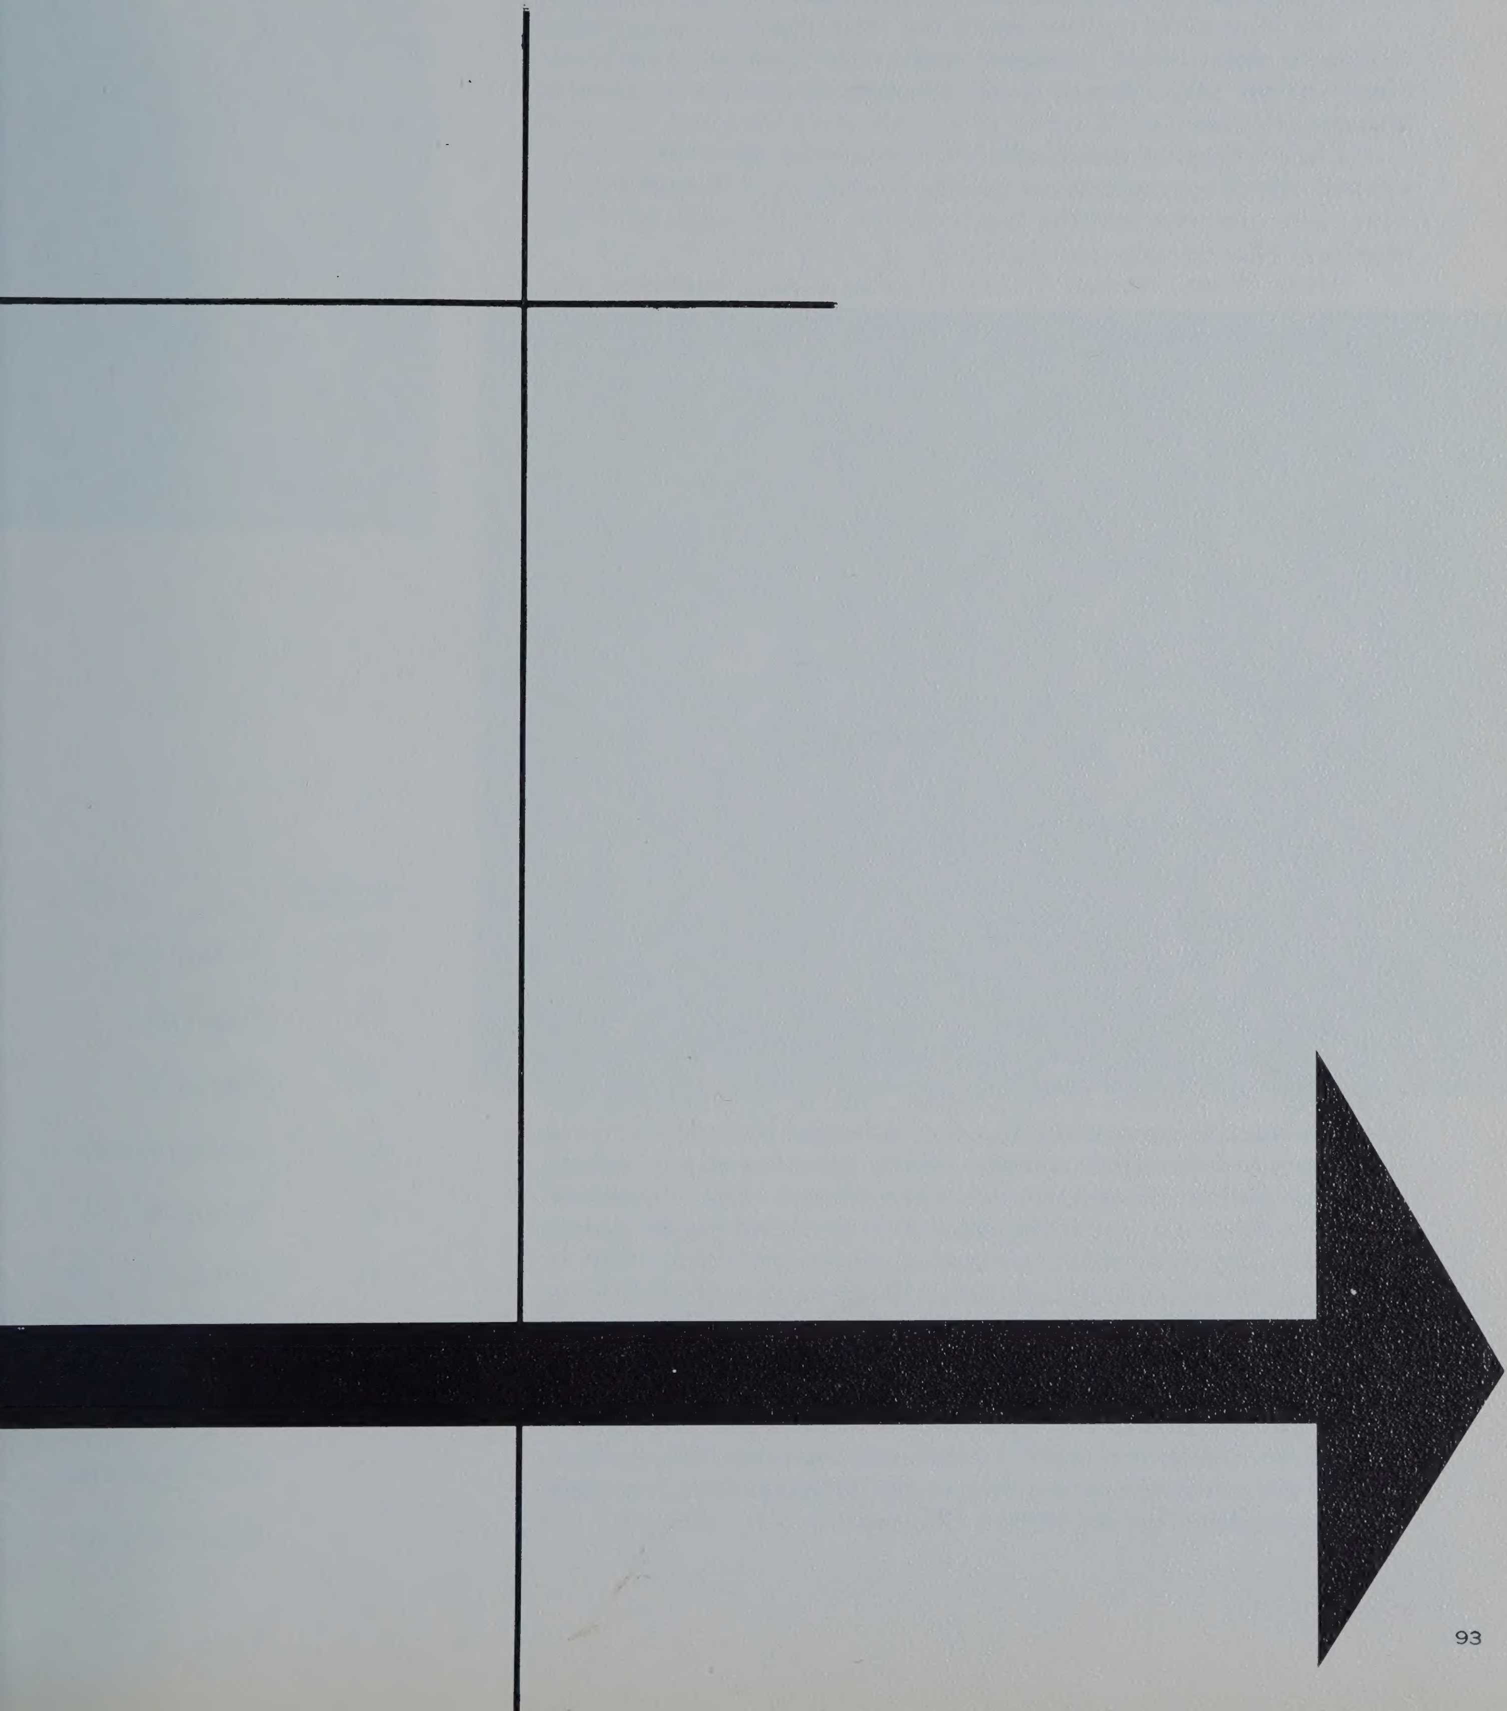
ATHLETICS



1966 FOOT

The 1966 season opened with the Danville Ironmen facing the Shikellamy Braves. The Ironmen's resistance was stubborn, but futile. Shikellamy scored 26 points before Bob Cope made it across for the only Ironman score of the night. Shikellamy's 39-7 victory over the ironmen was the first of many. They were the top of the Susquehanna Valley League.

The Shamokin Indians were the next Ironmen opponents. Livziey's boys were stopped again. The Shamokin defense didn't allow the Ironmen a point, while the Indian's offense amassed 19 points.

The following week, the Ironmen met Berwick. Cope scored the first touchdown of the night on a 71-yard run. This was also the last for the Ironmen, as Berwick went on to win 27-7.

After these losses, Coach Livziey's boys captured the first Ironman victory of the season. The Seals of Selinsgrove proved legal game as the Ironmen defeated them 20-0. This was the most decisive victory of the year for the Ironmen.

The spirit of victory was short-lived. The Tigers of Southern Area outscored the Ironmen in a hard fought game. The only Danville score was on a pass from Rick Seitz to Bill Concini. Final score was 19-6, favor of Southern.

The Danvillians got back into the swing of things with a 20-14 victory over Milton. In this Color Day clash, the Ironmen took the lead in the second quarter, but things didn't start popping till after half time. Seitz started the second half with a ten-yard run for a Danville score. Cope scored the winning touch-down in the last quarter. The final score was Danville 20, Milton 14.

BALL

The Ironmen traveled to Central the following week looking for another victory. They were not disappointed, as touch-down runs by Cope, Seitz, and Jim Delbo helped the Ironmen to a score of 26-7 over the Blue Jays.

Lock Haven, always a tough opponent, showed no qualms at trouncing Danville 42-0. The Ironmen appeared powerless against the Bobcats.

Still smarting from the last game, the Ironmen traveled to West Hazleton on November 4. Jay's Birds fought back from an early deficit to tie the Wildcats 20-20. Unfortunately, the Ironmen were once more denied victory by a Last minute Wildcat touch-down. At game's end, the score was 27-20, the Wildcats.

Spirits were high as the Ironmen approached the last game of the season. To raise them even higher, the cheer leaders sponsored a snake dance. This enthusiasm was evident as the Ironmen triumphed over Bloomsburg, 17-7, and retained the Judy Price Trophy.

Much of this year's success can be credited to the seniors: Shawn Harris, Bob Cope, Joe Fleming, Eric Wintersteen, Neal Bower, Jerry Ward, Rich Geise, Bill Bell and Phil Shiner. Bill Bell, one of the largest boys in the league, was flanked by Neal Bower, one of the smallest. Much early hope was centered on Joe Fleming, but an injury robbed the Ironmen backfield of his leadership. Bob Cope distinguished himself as one of the greatest backs to play for Danville. His accomplishments gained him league recognition.

November 11, 1966, marked the end of an era at Danville Senior High School. It was the end of Jay's Days. Mr. Livziey started coaching in 1957 and became head coach two years later. His teams have placed third or better every year except one. He also coached the Ironmen during their 17 game winning streak in '62 and '63. Mr. Livziey oversaw 81 varsity games, only 28 of these were lost. Much credit for this success should be given not only to Coach Livziey, but also his worthy associates-Mr. John Maturani, Line Coach; Mr. Gene Snyder, Backfield Coach; Mr. William Elder and Mr. Richard Martz, Junior High Coaches, and Mr. Walter McCloskey, Intramural Coach.

The 1966-67 season for the Danville Ironmen was on the whole a successful one. Midway through the last half, the team was tied for the league championship. The varsity is coached by Mr. McCloskey and the Jayvee's by Mr. Zaborowski.

The exhibition game against Williamsport was the crowning time for the 1966-67 Basketball queen. Debbie Williams became our new queen with Martha Angle, Linda Davis, Judy Davis and Anne Marie Brag in her court.

The Susquehanna Valley league opened with Central at Danville, with the Ironmen gaining their first victory.

Traveling to Berwick the squad lost a heartbreaker by a small margin of three points. Trying to come back in the run against Northwest, the Ironmen were again defeated. Seeking revenge the Ironmen cagers fought hard to win their next games against Selinsgrove, Shamokin, Milton, Southern and Bloomsburg. Shikellamy, one thriller this year, was lost by three points, in a double over-time.

The Ironmen started the second half winning the contest against Central. With high spirits and a moral boost from the cheerleaders, the squad went into the Berwick game with great determination. The cagers were behind throughout the match up until the fourth quarter when we pulled out in front to stay with the help of our Coach, Walter McCloskey.

The boys went into the game with Northwest knowing that if they could win the 2nd half title would be theirs. The Ironmen vainly tried to match the Northwest team but throughout the game they couldn't seem to hit the right combination and the game was lost.

Traveling to Selinsgrove, the Ironmen won an easy victory, 51-42.

Southern and Bloomsburg then fell victim to the Ironmen "Sharpshooters." As we go to press, the key game with Shikellamy is to be played this evening. We are confident our boys shall be the victors!

Players on the varsity squad are Bill Bell, the captain and only Letterman returning this year. Rick Seitz, one of the top scorers, with Mike McCloskey close behind. Denny Weiss and Pete Dimmick add enough height to recover many of the needed rebounds. Other players helping to support the squad are Tar Wagner, Jim Ward, Paul Marsden, Larry Baer, Joe Shipe, Dennis Washko, Gene Snyder, Ralph Page and Bill Booth. "The Taci Squad," started last year, was established so that every boy who wants to go out for basketball may. Mr. Lynn Shoop helps coach this division of the team.

The varsity cheerleaders for 1966-67 were chosen from a number of girls who tried out. By holding many practices during the summer, they were able to prepare themselves for the task of cheering at the many football, basketball games and wrestling matches.

Cheering is not the only duty the cheerleaders perform; they must act as representatives of our school, and assume role of hostesses at all home sports events. In the fall of the year, pep rallys are held for each of the home football games. These are an important factor in arousing school spirit and encouraging the team toward victory.

A highlight of our football season was a snake dance and bonfire sponsored by the varsity cheerleaders. It proved to be highly successful, as approximately 200 students turned out to "Burn Bloom" in effigy.

Basketball season began with the varsity squad participating in the second annual Cheer-A-Rama. In this competition, cheerleading squads from all schools in the league vie for championship honors. Our girls placed third in the competition, missing a three-way tie for second place by only one point.

With basketball and wrestling seasons combined, the cheerleaders began cheering four times a week. The accelerated schedule provided a great incentive, and the girls raised the morale of both teams by decorating locker rooms and the gym for home games and matches.

Much early optimism was centered around our wrestling team for the 66-67 season. There were more boys out for wrestling than in any other year, and many returning seniors. After three matches the grapplers had one victory, one tie and one defeat to their credit. This was indeed one of the best starts the Ironmen wrestlers had ever had.

Then the scars of battle began to show. Of the six seniors on the varsity, only three mained to finish the season. Keith Whitenight, Joe Fleming and Neal Bower were the victims while Jerry Ward, Carl Hartman and Shawn Harris were the surviving seniors. Neal was undefeated in mat competition until he was injured. Shawn was a finalist at the Williamsport Wrestling tournament and was robbed of final honors in a special overtime period. The other seniors can be proud of their records. They were all enviable.

The end of the season proved fatal for the Ironmen. Their final record was 1-6-1; this was good enough to put them in fifth place above Shikellamy and Central. The season was a disappointing one, but it also left the Ironmen with some hope for the future. More wrestlers and more school support than ever showed that wrestling was on the upswing in D.H.S. With a few more years of this support, you can be sure that Coach Elder and Mr. Richie will be producing winning teams.

The Varsity bowling teams are a natural outgrowth of the intramural programs which commence for the students while they are in Junior High School. During the season, competition is held with girls and boys teams from eight other area schools and each team meets the other in a home and an away game. The climax of the season is the Susquehanna Valley High School Bowling Championship which is held at Danville at the close of the season each year. Upwards of fifteen teams on the whole participate in the tournament.

Girls Basketball was organized several years ago and competition is held in a regularly scheduled league. All teams in the league do not play each other, but the league is divided into East and West. Games are played after school and every girl who makes the team is given the opportunity to play either on the varsity or junior varsity. A play-off is held at the end of the season between the winners of the east and west divisions.

COLOR QUEEN

On October 14, Sue Jackson was crowned Color Queen by the Student Council President, Mike Jackson. She was elected by the entire student body from a group of five Senior girls. Her escort was Rich Knouse.

The other cnadidates were Nancy Hunt, Bonnie Marks, Mirl Schwarzkopf and Barbara Jo Thomas. They were escorted by Joe Fleming, Keith Whitenight, Jack Krohmer and Don Cotner respectively.

The crowning of the Queen and the dance that followed were the climax of Color Day sponsored by the Student Council.
